

A Floating Stage Competition Miami Marine Stadium

Seeing that the Miami's Marine Stadium has developed the National Trust for Historic Preservation's "11 Most Endangered List" and also the 2010 watch listing of World Monuments trust, a latest institute has commenced a model competition to re-establish its floating stage. "We want a unique and spectacular building," stated Don Worth co-initiator of the Friends of Marine Stadium. "We want to see what can be done – we want a broad array of ideas for a new stage for events at the stadium."

In the midst of the panel of adjudicators is Hilario Candela, who planned the arena when he was 28 and at present tries hard to re-establish it just about a half century soon after. "This is an opportunity to think outside the box, but with a real project," he stated. The entire Panel of judges for the DawnTown 2011 Floating Stage plan competition consists of Hilario Candela, Walter Meyer, Jorge Hernandez, Michele Oka Doner, Lawrence Scarpa, and also Frank Sanchis.
